

Other People's Stuff

Sometimes people own something and
someone else wants to use it.

When a person owns something it belongs to them.

People own things they pay for or receive as gifts.

If you want to use something that isn't yours, look at the person.

Ask permission. "Can I borrow your ____?"

They can say yes.

Or they can say no.
Either answer is okay
because it belongs to them.

Respect their answer.
Say, "Okay."

When people take things that do not belong to them, other people get upset.

It can make others feel angry, sad, or frustrated.

When someone takes something that belongs to another person, it is called stealing.

Some items are very personal and others do not borrow them.

Wallets and purses are examples of very personal items.

When people respect
other people's belongings, everyone
feels happy.
