

Receiving gifts

Many people receive presents for holidays or birthdays.

Sometimes people open
the gift and love it!

Sometimes people open
a gift and feel disappointed.

Either way, follow these steps when you receive a gift.

Look at the person

Smile and say, "Thank you." Doing this is good manners.

If you do not like the gift, do not let the person know.

It is okay to be disappointed, but do not share this with the giver.

Later, once the person has left, you can decide what to do with it.

People buy gifts to tell others that they care about them.
